Summary and other Accomplishments

Elizabeth Ho got her Bachelor of Education degree at the University of Lethbridge, where she also received a Bachelor of Music in violin performance. She has more than 17 years of violin and piano training with performance and theory certificates from The Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music (ABRSM) and Trinity College London. She has played in symphonies in both Hong Kong and Lethbridge, and has taught violin in private music schools. Elizabeth Ho is a musician who is passionate about sharing what she knows. She also speaks three languages: Cantonese, Mandarin and English. Although English is not her first language, she sees music as a universal bond for people from all backgrounds and cultures. In her future teaching, she will use music as a tool that allows her students to explore the world, acquire new knowledge and find new ways to understand who they are and all they can become. She is excited to join Musica Academy's faculty.
