Summary and other Accomplishments

Armiluz showed a keen interest in Piano at an early age and attended the Conservatory of Music at the University of Sto. Tomas, the oldest University in the Philippines and one of the most prestigious in the country. She received her Bachelor of Music diploma, supplemented with Choral Conducting as well as Ethnic Music and got her certificate in Physical Education. She has taught all levels for the past 35 years which proves her expertise. She believes that as a teacher she has a unique opportunity to connect and inspire her students. She makes every music experience both rewarding and enjoyable. She works with an encouraging approach that inspires most of her students to love and develop a commitment to piano study. With the years of teaching here in Calgary and back in her country she earned the reputation as one of the most respectable teachers in her field. As a senior teacher in the Irene Besse Academy of Music, her tips on how to encourage students to practice and enjoy playing for their parents was published in the Calgary Herald. She now works with Musica Academy where she chooses to teach Private Piano to all levels, especially adults and special kids. Her students excel in Concerts and Competitions. Presently, she considers herself fulfilled as a teacher.
